5. 2024 Requested Budget. Deputy Library Director Jennifer Meyer-Stearns presented a summary of MPL’s 2024 requested budget. As directed by the Budget Office, MPL submitted a cost-to-continue budget. The proposed 2024 budget is $25.79M, which is a 9.7% increase over 2023 and includes adjustments for inflation. The majority (9.6%) of the increase is due to salaries funded through the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) in 2023 which will revert to the MPL budget in 2024. The proposed budget maintains the current services and hours in 2024. MPL will invite Budget Director Nik Kovac to attend the June Board meeting to present an overview of the budget process and the City’s fiscal status. Deputy Director Meyer-Stearns commended Mayor Johnson and the Common Council for the progress made in budget discussions with State legislature. Informational item.

6. Urban Libraries Council (ULC) Declaration of Democracy. Vice-President Layden referred to the ULC Declaration of Democracy, listed as Attachment C of the agenda. The Declaration was introduced by Trustee Bria at the April meeting. At that time, the Board recommended taking official action to affirm it. Library Director Joan Johnson and Trustee Bria reviewed the origin of the document and its intent. The Declaration of Democracy was created by the ULC Board as a response to recent efforts to ban library materials. With Board approval, MPL will sign onto the statement and publicly declare its commitment to intellectual freedom and the preservation of democracy in our communities. Trustee Mercado moved to adopt the Urban Libraries Council Declaration of Democracy Statement; Trustee Vincent seconded. Motion passed.

NEW BUSINESS

7. Annual Bylaws Review. Vice-President Layden referred to the MPL Board Bylaws, listed as Attachment D of the agenda. No changes were recommended. Informational item.

8. Summer Reading Program. Kelly Wochinske, Library Public Services Area Manager – Education and Outreach Services, presented an update on the MPL Summer Reading Program (SRP), which starts on June 1st. A primary goal of SRP is to offset reading skill loss and opportunity gaps that can occur when children are out of school and child care during the summer. Community partnerships are a foundation of SRP and MPL is working with approximately 150 school-age sites to register children and distribute materials. Partners have access to library resources, including book collections, lesson plans, and staff training provided by MPL. Every child that registers for SRP will receive a new book. AmeriCorps members will provide service at several school-age sites, delivering programs and acting as ‘Book Buddies’ to encourage independent reading. Early childhood educators will facilitate Story Times at childcare centers and various playgrounds in Milwaukee. The Teen SRP program will offer a series of photography programs, including digital photography, Polaroid photos, and photo shoot styling. Weekly and bi-weekly story times will be offered at all MPL locations. Drop-in stations and take-home activity kits will also be available. Ms. Wochinske expressed appreciation for the MPL Foundation (MPLF) support of these initiatives, as a large portion of SRP is funded through the MPLF. Informational item.
BOARD DEVELOPMENT
9. Dublin Literary Award. Jacki Potratz, Collection Development Librarian, shared information about MPL’s role in the annual Dublin Literary Award nomination process. The award promotes excellence in world literature and is entering its 28th year. Award nominations come from libraries worldwide and are by invitation-only. Participating libraries nominate a single work of international fiction written in or translated into English. Formerly, participating libraries submitted 3 titles for consideration. Starting in 2021, libraries may now only submit 1 title. A panel of judges narrows the candidates to a short list of 10 and selects a winner. MPL was invited to submit nominations in 2009 and has participated each year since. In 2011, Ms. Potratz’s nomination won the award and her selections made the short list in 2013, 2015, 2019, and 2020. Informational item.

With no further business, the Milwaukee Public Library Board of Trustees meeting of May 23, 2023 was adjourned at 4:50 p.m.

2. Martin Luther King Branch Redevelopment Project Update. Dr. Tammy Mays, Public Services Area Manager – Branches, presented an update on the project. Following the Committee’s approval to designate the remaining furniture and equipment as surplus, several community partners accepted the invitation to take items as needed. Dr. Mays showed several photos and an overview of the temporary Martin Luther King branch space. The photos are attached at the end of these minutes. The space is open for use, including Children’s and Adult collections, and MPL is working with the provider to activate internet service. In the interim, hot spots are being used to provide computer services to the public. To maintain continuity and a welcoming feel, several key pieces of artwork were transferred to the temporary location. Since opening, over 150 patrons have used the temporary location. Chair Morgan commended MPL staff and the development team on the groundbreaking ceremony. Demolition on the old building will begin after Juneteenth. MPL and the development team have had difficulty securing a vendor for geothermal heating and are investigating other green heating alternatives. Additional updates will be provided at upcoming meetings. Informational item.

3. Real Estate Update. Deputy Library Director Jennifer Meyer-Stearns provided an update on the former Mill Road and Llewellyn branch sites. The Department of City Development (DCD) is preparing both sites for sale, with a goal to have them on the market in summer 2023. Revenue from the sales will be used for MPL capital projects. Deputy Director Meyer-Stearns and the Committee thanked PJ Woboril, Library Facilities Manager, for maintaining the properties as they are prepared for sale. Informational item.

4. Bookseller and Café at Central Library. Deputy Library Director Jennifer Meyer-Stearns provided an update on the Bookseller and Café spaces. EXCUSED: Michele Bria

OTHERS: MPL: Chantel Clark, Jennifer Meyer-Stearns, Karli Pederson, Rebecca Schweisberger
Budget and Policy Division: Angelique Pettigrew

Committee Chair Matt Kowalski called the MPL Board of Trustees Innovation and Strategy Committee meeting to order at 9:06 a.m. on June 6, 2023 without a quorum present. All Trustees and presenters participated by video conference.

1. Committee Meeting Minutes Review. The Committee reviewed and approved the minutes from the April 4, 2023 meeting, listed as Attachment A of the agenda. Trustee Siemsen moved to approve; Trustee Spiker seconded. Motion passed.

2. Community Conversations and Engagement. Library Director Joan Johnson presented an update on the community engagement process and next steps. Since January, Director Johnson has engaged with over 150 patrons and community members. Conversations have been held at Central Library, 11 library branches, and community partners Journey House and Safe & Sound. The project goal is to receive feedback from at least 1,500 patrons. To support in this effort, MPL has engaged INPOWER Solutions, a Milwaukee-based social impact and good-cause marketing agency. In partnership with INPOWER, MPL is developing an online survey and planning additional community events. The community engagement campaign is “Get Loud for Libraries”. Patrons have shared valuable feedback about services they value and how they would like to see funding prioritized. INPOWER will use the data and findings to prepare a report which will help support MPL in the 2024 budget process. Informational item.

3. Race, Equity, and Inclusion (REI) Work Plan Update. Associate Library Director Chantel Clark shared a progress report and next steps for the REI work plan. The MPL REI Committee is tasked with oversight of the REI plan and coordinating continuing education to meet REI goals. Since its inception, multiple staff changes have impacted the committee roster. The REI Committee is now co-chaired by Associate Director Clark and Human Resources Administrator Victoria Robertson. The committee has regrouped and is focused on ensuring all members are aware of their roles and responsibilities. Next steps of the action plan include gathering regular updates, clarifying objectives, and creating a shared working document to capture and share milestones. Several liaison groups will be created to help facilitate communication between the committee and staff responsible for parts of the work plan. The committee will create a shared folder, accessible by all staff, that will contain updates, articles, and resources. Associate Director Clark reviewed the plan summary, attached at the end of these minutes. The MPL BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, and People of Color) affinity group has been created and is chaired by a member of the REI Committee. Planning is underway for the REI all-staff training day in November, which will include presentations from Derek Mosley and ALA Executive Director Tracie Hall.
As part of the Community Conversations series and regularly scheduled Managers meetings, members of Library Administration have been regularly visiting branches and engaging with staff. In an effort to broaden the collection, MPL has added two new world-language vendors and developed an online submission form to allow self-published authors the opportunity to submit their work for consideration. The public services team is creating robust guidelines and criteria for partnerships to reach underserved areas. Additional updates will be shared at upcoming meetings. Informational item.

4. Broadband Access Update. Library Director Joan Johnson presented an update on the broadband access work. Director Johnson has been working with Assistant City Attorney Joseph Dobbs regarding legalities of the proposal to install broadband infrastructure on library buildings to provide internet service in local areas. The project is suspended as MPL awaits further guidance from the City Attorney’s Office. Attorney Dobbs may be invited to attend the committee meeting in October for additional updates. Informational item.

5. Next Meeting. Updates about the broadband access projects, REI work plan progress, and updates on community outreach related to service planning will be presented at the October 3, 2023 meeting.

The meeting of the Milwaukee Public Library Board’s Innovation & Strategy Committee was adjourned at 9:48 a.m. on June 6, 2023.
President Sain called the MPL Board of Trustees Executive Committee meeting to order at 4:03 p.m. on June 12, 2023. All Trustees participated by video conference. Quorum was not reached and the meeting was held as informational only. No action items were taken up.

1. Approval of the Minutes. This item was held due to lack of quorum.

2. 2023 Progress Report. Library Director Joan Johnson presented an update on the status of selected library goals.
   - Implementation of New Service Plan. In 2022, implementation of a new service plan was identified as a goal for 2023. However, after the Common Council restored funding to maintain services, MPL utilized the additional time to plan for potential budget cuts in the future. Community feedback regarding services, hours, and locations has been solicited through the Community Conversations with the City Librarian series. To support in this effort, MPL has engaged INPOWER Solutions, a Milwaukee-based social impact and good-cause marketing agency. In partnership with INPOWER, MPL is developing an online survey and planning additional community events. The community engagement campaign is “Get Loud for Libraries”.

   - Martin Luther King Branch Redevelopment. The development agreement has been signed and groundbreaking has begun at the former library site. The temporary library location has been opened for service.

   - Implementation of the Racial, Equity, and Inclusion Action Plan: The MPL REI Committee has been formed to work with Administration and project leads to ensure accountability. Several staffing changes in late 2022 and early 2023 impacted the committee leadership and roster and postponed part of the work. The committee is now co-chaired by Associate Library Director Chantel Clark and Human Resources Administrator Victoria Robertson. The REI all-staff training day will be held on November 30th and will include presentations from Derek Mosley and ALA Executive Director Tracie Hall. The MPL BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, and People of Color) affinity group has been created and is meeting regularly.

   - Grant Projects. MPL has received state funding to support the Teen ConnectED Learning programs, including maker spaces at Good Hope, Mitchell Street, and Washington Park. At these locations, teen interns work with young adult facilitators to develop after school programming for teens. The AmeriCorps program was intended to expand on the LibraryNOW campaign, utilizing AmeriCorps members to maintain a regular presence in schools, and offer after school and summer programming at MPL. In the course of the program, MPL staff learned more about their role in directly managing AmeriCorps members, including enforcing disciplinary actions as needed. As a result, recruitment for the program stalled and currently only 2 of 20 positions are filled. MPL is revisiting policies and structure to support AmeriCorps members and ensure the program is fully operational before the end of 2023.

- Digital Inclusion. Director Johnson is working with the City Attorney’s Office and a telecommunications legal expert to ensure the proposal to install broadband infrastructure on library buildings to provide internet service in local areas is legally compliant. If it is determined MPL is in compliance, a Request for Proposal (RFP) will be drafted and reviewed by the legal team prior to being issued.

  Informational item.

5. 2022 Annual Report. Library Director Joan Johnson reviewed the 2022 Annual Report, which is attached at the end of these minutes. The annual report was suspended in 2020 and has been reissued for 2022. The report highlights items from the Vision 2020 Strategic Plan, programming, and various statistics.

The Committee discussed identifying a location to display various awards and recognitions.

The meeting of the Milwaukee Public Library Board’s Executive Committee was adjourned at 5:03 p.m. on June 12, 2023.

Johnson appeared on WNOV’s Community Voices radio talk show with interviewer Keith Parris and INPOWER Solutions’ Emani Taylor to talk up the survey. The goal of reaching a minimum of 1500 people is off to a good start with nearly 200 contacts made during the in-person sessions.

Director Johnson made her debut for a first-time appearance on the field at American Family Insurance Brewers stadium as part of the pre-game show to promote the summer reading program and to join MPL Foundation Director Ryan Daniels in accepting a $50,000 gift from the Brewer’s Community Foundation, presented by Cecilia Gore and player Willy Adames.

Johnson supported an MPL author event presenting Matt Desmond, best known for “Evicted,” who spoke about his new work, “Poverty, by America.” She gave the welcome for authors, Richard and Leah Rothstein, a father and daughter team who spoke about their latest work, “Just Action.” Richard is best known for “Color of Law.” The latter program was presented in partnership with The Redress Movement.

MPL’s collaborative work with other City departments and leaders continues in small workgroups to advance the city’s goals including efforts to better support employees through a new recognition program called City Employees Recognition Awards (CERA). Johnson and team met with the Office of Violence Prevention Director to advance the work on our shared goals, and she was also part of group that is being briefed on the planning for the 2024 Republican National Convention, as well as a smaller group working on policy revisions to better support departments in emergency situations.

Johnson joined an energetic and enthusiastic group of staff for MPL’s second appearance in the Juneteenth parade. There were hundreds of attendees lining the streets and the team made contact with scores of people eager to get library swag that included water bottles, bags and balls to promote the library.

Work on the broadband effort has resumed with help from DPI technology expert who connected the MPL team with a legal expert in the field who agreed to work pro bono. Their first meeting brought the needed clarity around compliance with state law for MPL to proceed with the project. Johnson still supports city-wide broadband efforts with the Milwaukee Broadband Partnership, and continues to attend the virtual meetings of the national SHLB Broadband Coalition.

Johnson and the MPL social media team were interviewed for the Creative MKE podcast who were following up on MPL’s recognition for its popular TikTok and social media posts, and to learn more about how the library helps to cultivate a healthy arts economy in the community.

Johnson continued to engage with local community leaders including a second meeting with elected official Ald. Mark Chambers. She regularly connects with local leaders through participation in the Rotary Club of Milwaukee. At a recent meeting, she introduced the Rotary Person of the Year Daniel Goldin of Boswell Books, who she co-nominated for the recognition. Other community connections were made at the VISIT Milwaukee annual meeting, and the MPL Foundation Board meeting, and national professional connections are maintained through the Urban Libraries Council online Director forums and the annual meeting.
